NORTHAMPTON COUNTY COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

Internal Policy: Accelerated Rehabilitative Disposition Program

I. Historical Background

The pre-Indictment Program, now known as the Accelerated Rehabilitative Disposition Program (ARD), was instituted by the Northampton County District Attorney's Office, the Northampton County Probation Department ARD Unit ("ARD Unit"), and the Northampton County Court of Common Pleas ("Court") as a pretrial diversion program offered as a privilege to the first-time offender who has committed a non-violent crime and is willing to admit his complicity in the alleged criminal action. ARD was also designed to provide restorative justice to victims and the community as a whole. An administrative by-product of ARD was to reduce the increasing number of criminal trials, thus freeing the District Attorney and the Court to concentrate its emphasis for the trial of more serious and repetitive offenses. Thus, the ARD admission process is intended to be a collaborative event.

As a general rule, the ARD program requires applicants to voluntarily waive their right to a speedy trial and enter a non-formal plea (acknowledgment) of guilt to the offense. The applicant is then given a specified term of probation to complete. The probationary term can run from one month to a two-year maximum period of supervision. Depending on the applicant and the circumstances of the offense, supervisory conditions of probation may run the gamut of those normally provided by the Northampton County Probation Department, including counseling and supervision. In appropriate cases the supervision may be nominal and even non-reporting. Upon satisfactory completion of all supervision requirements, the criminal charges are then withdrawn and may be expunged. Those applicants who violate or fail to complete the supervision requirements are removed from the program and the case is returned to criminal court for formal resolution.

II. Screening by the District Attorney

The ARD application process begins with the submission of an ARD application to the Northampton County District Attorney's Office ("DA") for approval. The DA shall design and implement its own eligibility and screening process of all ARD applications. Any applicant who is denied admission into the program by the DA shall not be entitled to participate in ARD.

Upon approval by the DA, the DA shall submit an approval form, signed by the Northampton County District Attorney or his designee, which shall include the following:

1. The charges for which the application was approved. Charges appearing on the original criminal complaint that are not listed on the approval form will be assumed to have been withdrawn for purposes of the applicant's ARD admission.

2. In those cases involving a victim, the victim's name and address.

3. In those cases involving a victim, any restitution due to the victim.

4. If appropriate, a brief summary as to special factual considerations, historical information of the applicant or the victim, and any other information the DA may believe material to the ARD Unit and/or the Court regarding its screening process.

The DA shall then forward all approved applications to the Northampton County Probation Department—ARD Unit ("ARD Unit").

III. Screening by the ARD Unit

All ARD applications approved by the District Attorney and forwarded to the ARD Unit shall be screened according to the Court's separate guidelines for ARD eligibility.

The ARD Unit will review the applications to determine eligibility according to the following guidelines:

1. The applicant must have no prior criminal convictions. Prior summary convictions shall not be a disqualification.

2. The applicant must have no prior (regular) ARD admission. The ARD Unit will consider applicants who have had a prior DUI—ARD or a prior ARD for a summary offense as a minor.

3. No applicant shall be approved where the crime involved the use of a weapon. Further, the factual predicate set forth in the affidavit of probable cause must not involve the use of a weapon, unless the DA certifies that any reference to the use of a weapon was incorrect or cannot be reasonably supported by credible evidence.

Although the general definition of weapon includes items such as knives, guns, and incendiary devices, the Court shall consider the use of any instrumentality with the intention of inflicting serious bodily injury or terrorizing another to be a weapon requiring disqualification (as examples: threatening or attempting to assault another with a bottle, tool, baseball bat, or automobile).

4. No application shall be approved where there has been serious bodily injury to the victim. Serious bodily injury will include any injury requiring medical attention. Offenses involving bodily injury not requiring medical attention may be considered for ARD, however, the ARD Unit will carefully review the factual predicate, and will consult with the victim prior to determining eligibility.

5. No application shall be approved where the offense involves a child victim.

6. No Felony 1, 2 or 3 offenses shall be approved, absent extraordinary circumstances reviewed and approved by the ARD Unit; and then submitted to the Administrative Judge of ARD Court and the President Judge for final approval.

7. No Felony delivery of controlled substances shall be approved. This prohibition shall include the delivery of counterfeit or look-alike controlled substances.

8. No offenses involving sexual assault shall be approved.

9. No offenses involving domestic violence shall be approved absent the victim's consent and the ARD Unit's approval.

10. Felony 3 offenses involving financial crimes will be considered, so long as approved by the District Attorney and not involving breaches of fiduciary duty or cases where the victim provides services to the community such as governmental institutions, nonprofit/charitable organizations, or religious institutions.

11. The ARD Unit and the Administrative Judge of ARD Court may also rely upon any other reasonable concern which suggests that an applicant or offense is not appropriate for approval.

Ultimately, the Court, through its ARD Unit, may exercise its discretion to reject any ARD application or applicant without recourse, appeal, reconsideration or hearing. In this regard, both the DA and Court have the absolute authority to reject any application or applicant.

For those applications and applicants who meet the above-referenced eligibility criteria, the ARD Unit shall begin its internal screening process, which may include, but not be limited to:

- a) review of the criminal complaint and the affidavit of probable cause;
- b) confirmation of the applicant's criminal record;
- c) an interview with the applicant to determine the applicant's amenability for pretrial diversion supervision;
- d) an interview with the victim, an interview with the applicant's referral sources;
- e) review of relevant medical records or psychological/psychiatric records (when such records are necessary for the ARD Unit to design an appropriate plan for supervision once accepted into ARD);
- f) review of employment records (when relevant to determine any issue relevant to the offense or the suitability for supervision of the applicant);
- g) confirmation that applicant has been in compliance with current Domestic Relations Orders;
- h) submission of applicant for a Drug and Alcohol evaluation;

- i) interview with relevant law enforcement agents including the prosecuting police department and pretrial services; and,
- j) any applicant, regardless of the nature of the charges, may be required to submit to a urine screen at the time of intake when sobriety or active drug use is suspected or a concern of the ARD Unit.

Any applicant, who fails to cooperate with the screening process or provide information requested by the ARD Unit, shall be rejected by the ARD Unit.

Additionally, any application or applicant for which the ARD Unit remains uncomfortable with approval for ARD after the screening process, the ARD Unit shall consult with the Administrative Judge of ARD Court for final determination.

The Administrative Judge of the ARD Unit and/or the President Judge shall have the discretionary authority to reject any applicant or application upon reasonable grounds.

All approved applicants will be provided a written ARD Participation Agreement setting forth the general rules and requirements of the program. The ARD Participation Agreement will also set forth the length of any probationary period and the general, special and individual conditions of probationary supervision. The applicant must accept all terms set forth in the ARD Participation Agreement and sign the ARD Participation Agreement. At that time, the applicant shall receive written notice for a Court appearance for formal acceptance into the ARD Program. ARD Court shall be held monthly.

Once accepted by the ARD Unit, a summary of each case, including a copy of the ARD Participation Agreement for each applicant, shall be forwarded to the Administrative Judge for ARD Court and the District Attorney's Office for final approval. The District Attorney and the Administrative Judge shall approve and co-sign the ARD Participation Agreements.

IV. Setting Restitution

With regard to those ARD cases requiring restitution to a victim, the District Attorney's ARD Application form shall set forth the restitution to be collected during ARD supervision. The burden of properly supporting claims for restitution shall rest with the victim.

The ARD Unit does not have the staffing to conduct restitution investigations.

The DA may amend any claim for restitution prior to formal ARD admission. Should the applicant disagree with a claim for restitution, the District Attorney's Office may object to the applicant's admission into ARD and require the matter to be returned to Criminal Court for disposition. In the alternative, the District Attorney's Office and the ARD applicant may agree to a restitution hearing, in which the District Attorney's Office shall be charged with the obligation of establishing restitution by the presentation of an appropriate record which may be opposed by the applicant. The burden of proof for establishing restitution shall be by the preponderance of the evidence. Once a judicial determination has been made as to restitution, the applicant will then be processed for ARD unless the applicant or the District Attorney chooses to withdraw the application.

V. General Supervision of ARD Clients

Supervision of ARD cases is provided on either an administrative level or a minimum supervision level. Conditions of supervision are determined by the supervising Probation Officer and set by the Court. The defendant is told that if he is selected for the program and is arrested on charges resulting in a possible conviction, the Court reserves the right to remove him from the program and stand trial on the original charge. If the defendant successfully completes the term of probation with no further arrests, and actively participates in community counseling and rehabilitative services ordered by the Court, the criminal charges will be expunged.

VI. Costs of ARD Supervision

All costs incurred by the processing of cases by the ARD Unit are the responsibility of the applicant to pay. The applicant shall pay fees established for the following:

- a. ARD court costs vary according to the grading of the offense
- b. Administrative ARD supervision—$150.00
- c. Court costs (fees due the Commonwealth, Pennsylvania State Police, Northampton County and central booking)
- d. Restitution
- e. All costs for special, probationary conditions, including treatment programs not internally provided by the ARD Unit.

The Administrative Judge of ARD Court shall have the sole authority to excuse the payment of court costs and supervision fees for an indigent applicant. The Administrative Judge may not excuse the payment of restitution, without the agreement of the District Attorney.

VII. Expungement Process

At the end of the applicant's probationary term, if the applicant remained clear of additional criminal involvement and satisfied all requirements of supervision, a petition shall be submitted by the Probation Officer and the District Attorney to dismiss the criminal action. Upon receipt of said petition, the Court shall issue an Order expunging the charge and the applicant shall be notified by mail that he/she successfully completed the ARD program. The Pennsylvania Board of Probation and Parole, Pennsylvania State Police, and Northampton County Clerk of Courts shall be provided with a copy of the Order dismissing the criminal charges. The Probation Officer will keep a copy for 2 years.

The Pennsylvania State Police are responsible for the removal of the arrest from the Applicant's background. If an applicant completes his/her period of supervision without any violations but has failed to satisfy the financial obligation in full, the Court may, if the applicant has made a reasonable effort to make timely payments, exercise its discretion to close the case for supervision. However, in such cases the expungement order will not be approved until the final payment is made. It will be the applicant's responsibility to contact the ARD Probation Officer when the costs are satisfied.

NOTICE FROM SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT

Northampton County Bar Association November 2, 2015
155 South 9th Street
Easton, Pennsylvania 18042
Dear Members,

One of the primary duties of the Northampton County Sheriff's Department is the physical security of the Courthouse/Government Center. The security of all individuals who visit, work or conduct business at the Courthouse is of the utmost concern of our department.

For the past 6 months, we have evaluated our practices, procedures and equipment in an effort to identify the best ways to enhance the security package in the Courthouse, specifically at the main rotunda entrance, while at the same time ensuring that security needs are balanced with reasonableness and the traditions of this Courthouse. We have engaged with subject matter experts and numerous stakeholders in the Northampton County community to assess the perceptions and realities of our present system.

The attack on the Deputy Sheriffs in Chester County Courthouse on August 25, 2015, clearly demonstrated that violence can be visited upon us at any time, suddenly and without warning or provocation. Moving forward, the Sheriff's Department will seek to enact new security procedures that will enhance our ability to identify, deter and prevent violence from entering our Courthouse.

Within the next few months, we shall replace the two walk-through electronic access card readers in the rotunda with a new electronic access ID card reader turnstile system with entry and exit lanes. We shall reconfigure and enhance the remaining equipment to improve security, flow and efficiency. We will enact new policies and procedures that limit entry through the rotunda entrance to two means, entry through the turnstile with an electronic access ID card or through a full security screening.

In the near future, we will be offering to members of the Northampton County Bar Association (NCBA) the opportunity to purchase electronic access ID cards which will permit entry through the Courthouse rotunda turnstile. We will request the Northampton County Council to set the fee for the electronic access ID cards at a nominal cost. Once the fee is scheduled and in collaboration with the NCBA, we will devise an application, payment and appointment system. We will work together to schedule the appointments which will be held at the Sheriff's Department and require a photograph for the ID card.

We hope to have the new equipment installed in or around December of this year. Once the fee is scheduled, we will provide further information so that we might work together to ensure that all NCBA members who choose to purchase an ID card may do so prior to the implementation of the new security procedures.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation and patience as we progress through this important transition.

Sincerely,
David Dalrymple
Sheriff,
County of Northampton

XI. This Order shall not interfere with the authority the Northampton County Executive, the Northampton County Council or the Northampton County Sheriff to provide additional security as deemed appropriate to address the respective needs of their offices, the county employees or the general public; or otherwise, to provide other security measures in addition to those set forth in this Administrative Order.
