Land use appeal – Standard of review – Zoning ordinance interpretation – Credibility determinations – Variance standards

1. In a land use appeal, where a complete record was created before the zoning hearing board and the court of common pleas has not accepted any additional evidence, the scope of review is limited to a determination of whether the Board abused its discretion or committed an error of law.
2. A zoning hearing board abuses its discretion when its findings are not supported by substantial evidence; that is, such relevant evidence as a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion.
3. An error of law is committed if the zoning hearing board erroneously interpreted or misapplied the law to the facts in a given case.
4. The court cannot substitute its interpretation of the evidence for that of the zoning hearing board.
5. When the record contains substantial evidence, the Court is bound by a zoning hearing board's finding that results from resolutions of credibility rather than a capricious disregard of evidence.
6. On review, the zoning hearing board's interpretation and application of its zoning chapter is entitled to deference. In this regard, the courts have made clear that a zoning hearing board is the entity charged with the interpretation and application of the zoning ordinance.
7. It is well settled that a zoning hearing board's interpretation of its own zoning ordinance is entitled to great weight and deference from a reviewing court. This principle is also codified in Section 1921(c)(8) of the Statutory Construction Act of 1721.
8. The basis for the judicial deference is the knowledge and expertise that a zoning hearing board possesses to interpret the ordinance that it is charged with administering.
9. In all applications for variance relief, an applicant must meet its burden of proving that there are unique physical circumstance or conditions which create and unnecessary hardship.
10. The applicant must also meet its burden of proving that such unnecessary hardship has not been created by the appellant.
11. Where a hardship is self-created, a variance must be denied.
12. The failure of a zoning board to consider each requirement of a zoning ordinance prior to granting a variance is an error of law.

13. The court is not permitted to draw independent inferences from the record or substitute its interpretation of the evidence for that of the zoning hearing board.
14. In these consolidated land use appeals, neighboring property owners and the applicant both appealed from the decision of the zoning hearing board which granted certain variances to the applicant. On appeal, the Court Held, that the decision of the zoning hearing board was vacated and remanded for further proceedings by the board to address whether any unnecessary hardship had not been created by the applicants.

NO. 2022-05147-ZB
LAND USE APPEAL

DECISION

Before the Court are consolidated appeals from the Decision and Order of the Zoning Hearing Board of East Nantmeal Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania (Board) dated June 13, 2022 (Decision), which granted certain variances to Chester Springs Investments, LLC (Chester Springs) related to its property located at 3121 Horseshoe Trail, Glenmoore, East Nantmeal Township<sup>1</sup> (Property). Neighboring property owners Gary and Kathryn Ott (the Otts) filed an appeal of the Decision on July 12, 2022, and Chester Springs filed its appeal of the Decision on July 14, 2022. Upon review of the record, and for the reasons set forth herein, the court vacates the Board’s Decision and remands the matter to the Board.

BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On August 17, 2020, Chester Springs purchased 21.34 acres located at 3121 Horseshoe Trail in East Nantmeal Township. The Property is vacant. Approximately 95% of the Property is located in the AR Agricultural Residential District and 5% is located in the C Commercial District. The Otts reside at 3110 Horseshoe Trail. Their property is adjacent to the 21.34 acres purchased by Chester Springs.

Chester Springs applied to East Nantmeal Township (Township) to develop the Property as an Equestrian Facility. During the Township’s review of that application, certain zoning relief necessary for the proposed development was identified. Chester Springs filed a Zoning Application (Application) to the Board dated August 23, 2021, for variances from the requirements of the Zoning Ordinance of East Nantmeal Township (Ordinance). In its Application, Chester Springs initially proposed to development the Property “as a horse farm for show and rehabilitation horses which will include a single family residence, stable (with accessory apartment), equipment shed, indoor arena, outdoor arena, 12 fenced in pasture areas and 18 stalls (14 in main stable barn and 4 portable stalls).” (Exh. B-1).

Chester Springs initially requested the following relief from the requirements of the Ordinance:

- (1) A variance from Section 401.A.4 to permit a second residential use on the Property, or in the alternative, an interpretation that the variance is unnecessary;
- (2) An interpretation of Section 401.A.4 that there is no limitation on the number of horses for an equestrian facility located within the A/R Zoning District or, in the alternative, a variance from Sections 401.A.4, 401.D.2.d, and 501.A.5 (which incorporates Section 301.A.8.b) to permit a maximum of 14 horses to be kept on the property;
- (3) An interpretation of or variance from Section 1203 to permit a 12-foot-wide improved access driveway with an associated eight-foot-wide improved shoulder, without the required 30-foot-wide easement/right-of-way; and
- (4) A variance from Section 1502.D.1 to disturb 47% of the 300-foot wetland buffer.

(Exh. B-1). After a series of continuances on the record on November 15, 2021, December 13, 2021, January 31, 2022, and March 24, 2022, the substantive hearings on the Application occurred on April 7, 2022, April 21, 2022, and May 10, 2022. The relief sought by Chester Springs evolved during the course of the hearings before the Board to the following:

1. A variance from Section 401.A.4 to permit a second residential use on the Property, or, in the alternative, an interpretation that the variance is unnecessary;
2. An interpretation of Section 401.A.4 that there is no limitation on the number of horses for an equestrian facility located within the AR Zoning District or, in the alternative, a variance from Sections 401.A.4, 401.D.2.d, and 501.A.5 (which incorporates Section 301.A.8.b) to permit a maximum of 14 horses to be kept on the Property;
3. An interpretation of or variance from Section 1203 to permit a 12-foot-wide improved access driveway with an associated eight-foot-wide improved shoulder, without the required 30-foot-wide easement/right-of-way; and

4. A variance from Section 1502.D.1 to disturb 47% of the 300-foot wetland buffer.

(Decision at 1-2).

The Board issued the Decision at its June 13, 2022, hearing and the present appeals ensued. On September 13, 2022, this court consolidated the two appeals at Docket No. 2022-05147-ZB.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

In a land use appeal, where a complete record was created before the zoning hearing board and the court of common pleas has not accepted any additional evidence, the scope of review is limited to a determination of whether the Board abused its discretion or committed an error of law. Bd. of Supervisors of Upper Southampton Twp. v. Zoning Hr'g Bd. of Upper Southampton Twp., 555 A.2d 256, 258 (Pa.Cmwlt. 1989); Herr v. Lancaster Co. Planning Comm'n, 625 A.2d 164, 167 (Pa.Cmwlt. 1993); Rouse/Chamberlain, Inc. v. Bd. of Supervisors of Charlestown Twp., 504 A.2d 375, 376 (Pa. Cmwlt. 1986). A zoning hearing board abuses its discretion when its findings are not supported by substantial evidence; that is, such relevant evidence as a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion. POA Co. v. Findlay Twp. Zoning Hr'g Bd., 713 A.2d 70, 75 (Pa. 1998); Eltoron, Inc. v. Zoning Hr'g Bd. of City of Aliquippa, 729 A.2d 149, 152 n.6 (Pa.Cmwlt. 1999). An error of law is committed if the board erroneously interpreted or misapplied the law to the facts in a given case.

In addition, the court cannot substitute its interpretation of the evidence for that of the zoning hearing board. Taliaferro v. Darby Twp. Zoning Hr'g Bd., 873 A.2d 807, 811 (Pa.Cmwlt. 2005). When the record contains substantial evidence, the Court is bound by a zoning hearing board's finding that results from resolutions of credibility rather than a capricious disregard of evidence. Id.

On review, the board's interpretation and application of its zoning chapter is entitled to deference. In re Jerrehian, 155 A.3d 674, 682 (Pa.Cmwlt. 2017). In this regard, the courts have made clear that a zoning hearing board is the entity charged with the interpretation and application of the zoning ordinance. It is well settled that a zoning hearing board's interpretation of its own zoning ordinance is entitled to great weight and deference from a reviewing court. This principle is also codified in Section 1921(c) (8) of the Statutory Construction Act of 1721, 1 Pa.C.S. § 1921(c)(8). The basis for the judicial deference is the knowledge and expertise that a zoning hearing board possesses to interpret the ordinance that it is charged with administering.

DISCUSSION

The Otts contend that the Board erred in granting variance relief to Chester Springs because, inter alia, there was no hardship on which to base such relief. We agree that the Board erred as a matter of law, but on different grounds.

In all applications for variance relief, an applicant must meet its burden of proving that there are “unique physical circumstance or conditions,” which create and unnecessary hardship. Ord. sec. 1809.A; Section 89 of the Act of December 21, 1988, P.L. 1329, 52 P.S. § 10910.2(a)(1); Wilson v. Plumstead Twp. Zoning Hearing Bd., 936 A.2d 1061, 1066 (Pa. 2007) (setting forth the criteria for a variance under the Municipalities Planning Code). The applicant must also meet its burden of proving that “such unnecessary hardship has not been created by the appellant.” Ord. sec. 1809.C; Section 89 of the Act of December 21, 1988, P.L. 1329, 52 P.S. § 10910.2(a)(3); Wilson v. Plumstead Twp. Zoning Hearing Bd., 936 A.2d at 1066. Where a hardship is self-created, a variance must be denied. See, Samar v. Zoning Bd. of Upper Merion Twp., No. 922 C.D. 2018, 2019 WL 1749038, at *9 (Pa.Cmwlt. 2019) (unreported) (denying, inter alia, variance relief based on self-created hardship where landowner chose to modify property in violation of ordinance); Dudlik v. Upper Moreland Twp. Zoning Hearing Bd., 840 A.2d 1048 (Pa.Cmwlt. 2004) (affirming denial of variance where landowner created hardship by choosing to convey lots and retain a lot that was too small to develop).

In the present matter, the Board erred as a matter of law by making no findings regarding and otherwise failing to address the Ordinance requirement that any “unnecessary hardship has not been created by the applicant,” prior to granting variance relief to Chester Springs. Larsen v. Zoning Bd. of Adjustment of City of Pittsburgh, 672 A.2d 286, 289–90 (Pa. 1996) (“The failure of a zoning board to consider each requirement of a zoning ordinance prior to granting a variance is an error of law.”); Pequea Twp. v. Zoning Hearing Bd. of Pequea Twp., 180 A.3d 500, 509 (Pa.Cmwlt. 2018) (Failure to address requirement for variance constitutes legal error.). Under these circumstances, it would be error for this court to rule on the appeal of the Board’s Decision. See, Polish Hill Civic Ass’n v. City of Pittsburgh Zoning Bd. of Adjustment, 285 A.3d 718, 729 (Pa.Cmwlt. 2022) (finding that trial court erred in affirming grant of dimensional variance relief where board failed to address variance requirements in zoning ordinance).

Erin McCormick, Conservation Easement Program Director at Natural Lands, was called as a witness by Chester Springs. (N.T. 4/7/22 p. 101). Ms. McCormick testified that, the easement does permit the landowner to establish that minimal protection area in another place within the standard protection area. This landowner chose to go with the area that had already been laid out with meets and bounds on the conservation and the subdivision plan.

(N.T. 4/7/22 p. 103) (emphasis added). The standard protection area, where the minimal protection area/building envelope may be located, includes pasture area.

(N.T. 4/7/22 p. 102). The highest protection area, where the building envelope would be precluded on the Property, “covers the wooded portions, which are really hedgerows.” (N.T. 4/7/22 p. 102).

It appears that Chester Springs has, at all times, had the ability to locate the minimal protection area/building envelope on the western side of the Property, which has road frontage and would obviate or at a minimum substantially mitigate the need for variance relief from Sections 1203 and 1502.D.1. (N.T. 4/7/22 p. 103; Exh. A-3; Exh. B-2). However, Chester Springs witness, Cameron Renehan, testified, without elaboration, that the hardships he described were not created by Chester Springs. (N.T. 4/21/22 p. 18). While the Board concluded that “[t]he Property is subject to a conservation easement held by Natural Lands Trust, which, in part, limits constructions of improvements to the eastern side of the Property,” (Decision at 6, ¶ 32), it never reconciled the conflicting testimony of Ms. McCormick and Mr. Renehan to address whether the hardships were self-created. The Board also made no findings or otherwise addressed whether any alleged financial hardship was self-created by Chester Springs.

This court is not permitted to draw independent inferences from the record or substitute its interpretation of the evidence for that of the Board. Taliaferro v. Darby Twp. Zoning Hr’g Bd., 873 A.2d 807, 811 (Pa.Cmwlth. 2005). The court is required to remand this matter to the Board to make findings and otherwise address the Ordinance requirement set forth in Section 1809.C that any “unnecessary hardship has not been created by the applicant.” See, Haverford Twp. v. Zoning Hearing Bd. of Haverford Twp., 423 A.2d 757, 759–60 (Pa.Cmwlth. 1980) (finding that the court below should remand the case to the board to satisfy the requirements for the grant of a variance).

ORDER

AND NOW, this 15th day of May, 2023, the June 13, 2022, Decision and Order of the Zoning Hearing Board of East Nantmeal Township, Chester County, is VACATED, and this case is REMANDED to the Zoning Hearing Board of East Nantmeal Township for further proceedings not inconsistent with this Decision.
