What Attorneys Need to Know About the New 2015 Regulations Regarding Real Estate Transactional Practice

Most attorneys have heard that there are dramatically new regulations which impact how we handle most residential real estate loan transactions. The regulations went into effect on October 3, 2015 and pertain to new loan applications which were taken by lenders on and after October 3, 2015. The settlements pursuant to the new regulations will begin to occur soon, probably sometime in November. This program discusses the nature of these changes and how the attorney can “remain in the game” of real estate transactional practice.
