EHB Strengthens Clean Streams Law Complaint Process

By Martin R. Siegel, Esq., counsel at Barley Snyder

A longtime practice by the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection came to an end recently with a precedent-setting case that will make it easier for individuals and businesses to prompt a DEP investigation.

Two Cumberland County businesses recently tried to have the DEP investigate damage to their properties that the owners believed came from construction of the Mariner East 2 pipeline by Sunoco Pipeline, L.P. Pennsylvania's Clean Streams Law authorizes state residents to file complaints to the Department of Environmental Protection about potential pollution released into Commonwealth waters. Under this statute, DEP is required to investigate those complaints.

Until recently, DEP asserted it had unfettered and unreviewable discretion regarding whether it took any action in response to such complaints. The Pennsylvania Environmental Hearing Board (EHB), however, recently ruled that it had jurisdiction to review a DEP decision not to act in a complaint filed by the two businesses (Carlisle Pike Self Storage v. DEP, EHB Docket No. 2021-072-L, 1/24/22, <https://ehb.courtapps.com/efile/documentViewer.php?documentID=55033>).

In their complaint to DEP, the businesses claimed among other things, that releases of drilling fluids during construction caused subsidence and the creation of sinkholes on their property. DEP ultimately decided that it was not going to take any enforcement action against Sunoco. The businesses appealed this decision to the EHB.

DEP argued that its decision not to act on the businesses' complaint was an exercise of its enforcement discretion that could not be reviewed by the EHB. The EHB rejected this argument, holding that the Clean Streams Law imposes certain mandatory duties on DEP, including a duty to investigate a complaint. Accordingly, DEP's decision not to take an enforcement action is a "final action" that the EHB can review.

Because of this ruling, DEP can no longer simply dismiss complaints under the Clean Streams Law filed by individuals and businesses. It will now need to be able to justify and provide a rationale for its decisions, making the process more transparent and making it easier for businesses or individuals to get answers from the state when it comes to possible polluted waters. It is anticipated that because the EHB has determined that it can review DEP's decision to act, or not act, on a complaint, DEP will give complaints more serious consideration. This, in turn, could lead to DEP initiating more enforcement actions based upon complaints it has received.

It is important to note that the EHB's ruling is limited to complaints filed pursuant to the Clean Streams Law and does not necessarily apply to complaints regarding violations of other environmental statutes.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF YORK COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA
ORPHANS COURT DIVISION

NO. 2022-0002

IN RE: ADOPTION OF PERCY MAYNARD IV

NOTICE TO PERCY MAYNARD III
REQUIRED BY ACT 101 OF 2010
23 Pa.C.S. § 2731-2742

This is to inform you of an important option that may be available to you under Pennsylvania law. Act 101 of 2010 allows for an enforceable voluntary agreement for continuing contact or communication following an adoption between an adoptive parent, a child, a birth parent and/or a birth relative of the child, if all parties agree and the voluntary agreement is approved by the court. The agreement must be signed and approved by the court to be legally binding.

A birth relative is defined only as a parent, grandparent, stepparent, sibling, uncle or aunt of the child's birth family, whether the relationship is by blood, marriage or adoption.

This voluntary agreement may allow you to have continuing contact or communication, including but not limited to:

- Letters and/or emails
- Photos and/or videos
- Telephone calls and/or text messages; or
- Supervised or unsupervised visits

If you are interested in learning more about this option for a voluntary agreement, contact me at 717-841-0498 or your attorney, if you have one.
